DIRECTORS' NOTES

FROM TODD QUICK

For the last three months, these talented young theatre artists have explored the full scope of the director's responsibilities. From play selection, to research, to analysis and interpretation, to casting, to conceiving the production, to working with actors - these directors have done it all, and have done it beautifully. As many of them enter into the home stretch of their theatrical careers at Monmouth College, I could not be more proud of the work they have done here, or more excited about the work they will do out in the world after they leave our stages.

OBSESSIVE/IMPULSIVE

"Obsessive Compulsive" is a comedic piece meant to show the complexities of how desire and fear can often lead us in the wrong direction. The heart may want one thing, but the brain ultimately knows it can't happen, whether because of practicality - or disorder, in the case of Man and Woman.

WHAT?!?

"What?!?" explores themes of unexpected love and emotional vulnerability. It highlights the confusion and surprise that often accompany falling in love by questioning traditional romantic ideals. The scene delves into the tension between fear and excitement as Ben and Andy confront their feelings in raw and comedic ways.

UH-OH

"Uh-Oh" is all about the consequences of when we take our loved ones for granted. When we forget to take the time to work on the relationships with the people we love, things may become stale and boring. In this scene we focus on Bill and Sarah while they try to shake things up and recover the fun in their marriage.

CHICKEN

"Chicken" is about the restlessness that can come with feeling too settled in a relationship. Sometimes it can feel easier to leave and start a new—and sometimes that causes more hardship. The scene explores inner turmoil and how our actions can unintentionally affect those we love.

SICK OF THIS

"Sick of This" is about a married couple with two kids. One of them is a stay-at-home mom and the other works a corporate job. They both feel overwhelmed by their own responsibilities within their family, and struggle to see the other's perspective. Each longs for support from the other.

THE SINGING TELEGRAM

"The Singing Telegram" focuses on the unpredictability of love and the clash of expectations vs. reality in a relationship. This scene explores the awkward, uncomfortable, and sometimes comedic nature of romantic gestures that don't always land as intended.

THE ANSWER

"The Answer" offers a quirky and beautiful love story about a bride and groom. Celia and Keith yearn for a fairytale Happily Ever After, but their circumstances satirize this cliché. The scene shows two souls reconciling their love and finding an alternative approach to spending their lives together: a way that accommodates the best and worst of times.

LUNCH AND DINNER

"Lunch and Dinner" shows how intimacy is ultimately required for a relationship to work. Even if it's not on a physical level, the amount of emotional closeness needed in any relationship, marriage or not, is high. Fail to maintain that, and maybe that relationship won't live to see it's just desserts.

FORGOT

"Forgot" is about two people who are having to grapple with the grief of the life they thought they were going to have. It is a scene about the loss you feel when you realize that you may not know someone as well as you thought.

DESTINY

In "Destiny," we explore the cyclical nature of relationships. The scene highlights the patterns we often fall into. Falling in love, falling out, and starting over. Always driven by the desire for connection yet haunted by the ever-present loneliness that is almost essential to the human condition. It's a raw reflection on how love both binds and breaks us, endlessly.
